THE following Addreſs of the States of the Iſland of Jerſey, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle, Governor of the ſaid Iſland: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the States of your Majeſty's Iſland of Jerſey.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's loyal and zealous Subjects, the States of your Iſland of Jerſey, moſt humbly beg your Permiſſion, to mention the deep and unfeigned Grief, which hath filled our Hearts, upon the Deceaſe of your Royal Grandfa her, our late ever venerable Sovereign; and, at the ſame Time, to expreſs our thorough Senſe of the peculiar Bleſſing to theſe Realms, by your auſpicious Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Throne, ſince your Virtues will intitle your Subjects to proclaim, with Exultation, that their late Sovereign is rather renovated, than removed.

The gracious Protection which we were honoured with ſo many liberal Proofs of, from your Majeſty's Auguſt Predeceſſor, will remain indelibly imprinted on our moſt grateful Hearts: And we moſt humbly beſeech you, Royal Sir, graciouſly to receive, and benignly to interpret that Gratitude, as a dutiful Pledge of our moſt fervent Affection, and zealous Attachment to your moſt Sacred Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

Permit us, great Sir, to give your Majeſty the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances of our conſtant Endeavours to maintain and cultivate that Loyalty, which our Anceſtors have ever held inviolable.

That Succeſs may continue to attend your Majeſty's Arms, and thoſe of your Allies: That you may ſoon compleat the glorious and unwearied Endeavours of your Illuſtrious Grandfather, by procuring to your Subjects, a laſting and advantageous Peace; and that your Majeſty's Reign may be long and proſperous, over a free and grateful People, is the moſt fervent Prayer of,

May it pleaſe your Sacred Majeſty,
Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful,
and ever loyal Subjects.

Iſland of Jerſey, January 19, 1761.

The following Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Principal Inhabitants of the County of Brecon, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Principal Inhabitants of the County of Brecon, humbly beg your Majeſty to accept this Teſtimony of our unfeigned Condoleance and Congratulation on thoſe two late important Events, the ever to be lamented Loſs of your Illuſtrious Grandfather, and your happy Acceſſion to His Throne.

When we look back, we find ourſelves bound by all the Ties of Duty, Loyalty and Gratitude, to keep in Memory the conſtant Protection and Security of our Religion, Liberty and Property, we ſo long enjoyed, during the whole Reign of our late beloved Monarch.

When we look forward, a pleaſing Proſpect opens before us; we behold a Prince aſcending the Throne in the full Bloom of Youth; Heir to all the Virtues and Accompliſhments, as well as to all the Power and Greatneſs of his Royal Progenitor; inſtructed and initiated in the whole Theory of the beſt conſtituted Government on Earth, both for Sovereign and Subjects; we hear him celebrated for private perſonal Virtues: This moral Character, the richeſt Jewel that can adorn a Crown, is the Theme of every Tongue; and ſurely no Britiſh Subject can ever forget his declared Attachment to his native Country, nor his dignifying the Name of Briton, by applying it to himſelf.

Conſcious of our Happineſs, what Tribute can we offer worthy our King's Acceptance? Accept our Hearts, all true Hearts of antient Britons, famed alike for Bravery and Loyalty; more we cannot, except it be by adding our Prayers to the King of Kings, to grant his Fiat, to realiſe, to verify, and ripen thoſe great and glorious Things, we ſee now only in their Dawn.

The following Addreſs of the Bailiff, Recorder, Aldermen and Common Council of the Town of Brecon, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Bailiff, Recorder, Aldermen and Common Council of your Town of Brecon, in Common Council aſſembled, humbly crave Leave to join with our Fellow-Subjects in the general Condoleance on the late melancholy Occaſion, by the ſudden and unexpected Death of our late moſt Illuſtrious Sovereign, your Royal Grandfather, whoſe mild and gentle Government always endeared him to his faithful Subjects, and whoſe long and glorious Reign over a free and united People, will ever appear with the moſt diſtinguiſhed Luſtre in the Britiſh Annals; and with humble Submiſſion alſo to offer to your Majeſty our warmeſt Congratulations on your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Royal Anceſtors, to which no Prince ever ſucceeded with ſuch univerſal Joy, and general Applauſe and Satisfaction.

Your Majeſty's moſt gracious and early Declaration of your paternal Love and Affection for this your native Country; of your firm Reſolution to preſerve and maintain our happy Conſtitution in Church and State, and ardent Deſire to make us a great and happy People, cannot but afford us a moſt pleaſing and agreeable Proſpect of the many Bleſſings we ſhall enjoy from your Majeſty's auſpicious Adminiſtration and Government; and, at the ſame Time, muſt fill the Hearts of all your faithful Subjects with the livelieſt Sentiments of Joy and Gratitude, and highly merit their Love and Affection, which your Majeſty, in your great Wiſdom, juſtly eſteems the beſt Support and Security of your Crown: So we hope to ſee your Majeſty the moſt powerful of any of your Predeceſſors; beloved by all your Subjects at home, and juſtly revered and regarded abroad, as the chief Head and and Support of the Proteſtant Intereſt, which cannot but be ſafe and ſecure under your Royal Guardianſhip and Protection.

On our Parts, we humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty of our moſt hearty and ſincere Affection and inviolable Attachment to your moſt ſacred Perſon and Government, and to teſtify our higheſt Satisfaction, that the Prince who reigns over us, will make the Laws of the Kingdom the Rule of his Government, as thoſe are the Rule and Meaſure of our Obedience. To which (Great Sir) permit us to add, what are, and ever will be, our moſt ardent Wiſhes, that your Majeſty's Reign over us may be long, very long, happy and glorious, attended with all the Favours and Bleſſings of Heaven. That your Arms, as hitherto they have been, may be ever victorious and triumphant, both at Sea and Land; your Councils unanimous and ſucceſsful; and that there never will be wanting one of your Royal and Illuſtrious Line to fill and adorn the Throne, and ſway the Scepter of theſe Kingdoms to the lateſt Poſterity.

Given under our Common Seal this Eighth Day of December, 1760.

This Society, founded by one of your Majeſty's Royal Predeceſſors, cheriſhed and ſupported by your Great Grandfather and Grandfather, of bleſſed Memory, retains the moſt grateful Senſe of the Royal Favours received from them; and is encouraged to hope for continued Protection and Favour from a Sovereign, whoſe public and eminent Regard to our Holy Religion, and tendereſt Affection for His Native Country, diſtinguiſh the Commencement of His Reign with the moſt auſpicious Characters.

To ſpread, and to promote the Knowledge of Chriſtianity among your Majeſty's Subjects in the Highlands and Iſlands of Scotland, to extend that Knowledge even to the Indians bordering on your Colonies in North America, to baniſh the Errors of Popery, and to root out the Principles of Diſloyalty from the moſt remote Corners of this Part of the United Kingdom; theſe, Great Sir, are the Objects of the Attention and Labours of this Society; while, at the ſame Time, co-operating with the wiſe and gracious Meaſures of the Legiſlature, we endeavour to introduce into the moſt diſtant Parts of this Iſland the Arts of Induſtry, Manufacture, and Agriculture; Arts which continue to flouriſh in other Parts of your Majeſty's Dominions, to an Extent unknown in any former War.

Animated with the Hopes of rendering ourſelves ſtill more worthy of your Royal Favour and Protection, encouraged, as we have been, by charitable Aids from your Majeſty's Subjects in Great Britain and Ireland, and excited by the good Succeſs we have already had, we go on with Alacrity and Pleaſure, humbly imploring the Bleſſing of Heaven upon our Endeavours; and praying to that God, who hath promiſed to honour thoſe who honour Him, that He may make your Majeſty's Reign long and proſperous, over a free, happy, and united People.

With Hearts full of Loyalty we teſtify our ſincere Joy, that in a Juncture ſo critical, when the Eyes of all Europe are fixed upon the Conduct of Great-Britain, it has pleaſed the all-wiſe God, who has endowed your Majeſty with ſo many Royal Virtues, to call you to the Government of a powerful and united People, in this your native Country.

May the ſame Almighty and Over-ruling Providence inſpire your Councils with Wiſdom, give Succeſs to your Fleets and Armies, and proſper your Princely Inclinations to reſtore Peace to Europe: And may we continue to enjoy thoſe Bleſſings, of which we have ſo true and grateful a Senſe, under a Prince of your Illuſtrious Line, to the lateſt Period of Time.

WE the Bailiff, Burgeſſes, Principal Freeholders and Inhabitants of your antient and loyal Borough of Haſlemere, in the County of Surry, beg Leave to expreſs our unfeigned Sorrow for the Loſs theſe Nations have lately ſuſtained.

And amidſt the Acclamations of a happy and free People, to offer our moſt hearty Congratulations upon on your Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Throne of your Illuſtrious Anceſtors.

May God long preſerve your Majeſty a Bleſſing to your People, and the Delight of Mankind.

The three following Addreſſes having been tranſmitted to His Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, have by him been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſſes His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Incorporated Society in Dublin, for promoting Engliſh Proteſtant Schools in Ireland.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Incorporated Society in Dublin, for promoting Engliſh Proteſtant Schools in Ireland, humbly beg Leave to preſent to your Majeſty our ſincere Condoleance on the Demiſe of your Illuſtrious Grandfather, our late moſt Gracious Sovereign, whoſe eminent Virtues will for ever live in the Hearts of a grateful People, and whoſe Patronage of this Society, founded by His pious Care, and ſupported by His Royal Bounty, renders His Memory the peculiar Object of our higheſt Veneration.

Permit us, Sir, at the ſame Time, with Hearts duly thankful for the Providential Goodneſs of that Great Being, by whom Kings reign, to join in the univerſal Congratulations of your Kingdoms upon your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Auguſt Anceſtors.

When we review the Annals of your Majeſty's immediate Predeceſſors, the Guardian Rulers of a free and willing People, and ambitious only to vindicate the Civil and Religious Rights of Mankind: When we reflect, that in your early Years your Majeſty's tender Mind was formed with the utmoſt Care to the Imitation of thoſe ſhining Patterns; and when with equal Joy and Admiration, we contemplate your Majeſty's immediate and earneſt Attention to preſerve and ſtrengthen our Excellent Conſtitution in Church and State, and your Royal Authority firſt exerciſed in Support of Religion and Virtue, what Bleſſings may we not aſſuredly promiſe ourſelves from the benign Influence of your auſpicious Government.

May the Stability of wiſe and able Counſels lighten the Weight of Care incumbent upon Royalty: May your Gracious Intentions and Endeavours for the Proſperity of your People, be crowned with perpetual Succeſs: May your Royal Virtues be the Objects of univerſal Imitation, as they juſtly are, of affectionate Reſpect and Admiration: And may your Reign, through a long Series of Years, be attended with equal Glory to your Majeſty, and Felicity to all your People.

It is the great End of this Society to reſcue the Children of the Poor in this Kingdom, from Superſtition, Sloth, and Diſaffection; and, by proper Inſtruction and early Labour, to make them, in due Time, good Proteſtants, uſeful Members of the Commonwealth, and loyal and dutiful Subjects; and we humbly confide in your Majeſty's Wiſdom and Piety, that an Inſtitution, ſo highly uſeful and important, will not be deemed unworthy of your Royal Favour and Protection.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Roman Catholics of the Kingdom of Ireland.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's dutiful and faithful Subjects, the Roman Catholics of the Kingdom of Ireland, beg Leave to approach your Majeſty with this humble Tender of our unfeigned Loyalty, on your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors.

While your Majeſty's Subjects, of all Denominations, are now endeavouring to be foremoſt in the Exertion of every Duty towards your Majeſty's Perſon and Government; and while all Circumſtances of Affairs at Home, and Abroad, unite for the preſent Happineſs and future Glory of your Reign; permit us to condole with your Majeſty, and to pour out our ſincere Sorrow for the Loſs we have ſuſtained, by the Death of a Monarch, who hath always approved Himſelf the Common Father of all His People; a Loſs, the more ſenſible on our Part, as the Repoſe we have ſo long enjoyed entirely proceeded from His Royal Clemency, and the mild Adminiſtration of His Government in this Kingdom.

Ever ſince the Acceſſion of your Majeſty's Royal Houſe to the Throne of theſe Realms, we have, in a particular Manner, experienced the Paternal Interpoſition of your Illuſtrious Predeceſſors. We, Moſt Gracious Sovereign, who are ſo unfortunately diſtinguiſhed from the reſt of our Fellow-Subjects, cannot ſubſiſt without a Continuance of the Royal Favour and Protection.

Senſible of the ſame hereditary Compaſſion in your Majeſty's Breaſt, we moſt humbly hope for that Share in the Happineſs of your Reign, which our peculiar Circumſtances can admit. And we beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty of our grateful and conſtant Return of Affection and Loyalty; a Loyalty, which our Conduct has proved, and our Religion enforces; happy! might it intitle us to expreſs a Wiſh, that, of all your Majeſty's dutiful Subjects of this Kingdom, we alone may not be left incapable of promoting the general Welfare and Proſperity of it.

May the Almighty ſo influence and direct your Majeſty's Counſels, through the whole Courſe of your Reign, that they may be ever productive of real Happineſs to all your People! And may that Reign be as memorable for its Duration and Felicity, as for the Greatneſs and Variety of thoſe Bleſſings, which we have already ſo much Reaſon to expect from it!

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Dublin Society, for promoting Huſbandry, and other uſeful Arts, in Ireland.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Dublin Society for promoting Huſbandry, and other uſeful Arts, in Ireland, with all Humility beg Leave to condole with your Majeſty on the Death of our late moſt gracious Sovereign, your Illuſtrious Grandfather. His Memory muſt be ever revered by all who enjoyed the Happineſs of His auſpicious Government; and more eſpecially by this Society, which was incorporated by His Royal Charter, and honoured with ſuch repeated and diſtinguiſhing Marks of His Protection and Munificence, as juſtly excite in us the warmeſt Sentiments of Gratitude.

At the ſame Time we preſume, with all poſſible Zeal and Submiſſion, to offer to your Majeſty our moſt ſincere Congratulations on your happy Acceſſion to the Throne, amidſt the univerſal Acclamations of a loyal and affectionate People, who look up to you as the Guardian of their Religious and Civil Liberties, and reflect, with the utmoſt Pleaſure and Satisfaction, on thoſe early Diſpoſitions, ſo conſpicuous in your Majeſty, to promote Religion and Virtue, and whatever tends to the Welfare and Proſperity of your Subjects.

Encouraged by theſe Conſiderations, we moſt humbly approach your Throne, with aſſured Hopes of your Majeſty's moſt gracious Protection, which will enable us more effectually to put in Execution the well intended Deſign of this Society, the Encouragement of Agriculture, and other uſeful Arts.

Animated by the ſtrongeſt Motives of the moſt reſpectful Affection and Loyalty, we embrace this Opportunity of aſſuring your Majeſty, that on all Occaſions we ſhall, every one of us, exert our beſt Abilities in Defence and Support of your Royal Perſon and Government; and endeavour, as far as in us lies, to render your Reign happy and glorious.

MAY it pleaſe your moſt Sacred Majeſty, to allow us the Magiſtrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Newgalloway, with great Humility to approach your Throne, in order to condole with you on the Loſs of our late Sovereign, your Royal Grandfather, and to teſtify our unfeigned Joy on your Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Crown.

The Hopes that your Subjects formed to themſelves from the early Diſplay of the many Royal Virtues that adorn your princely Mind, are confirmed by every Act of your Majeſty's wiſe and gentle Government, and give them a Certainty of enjoying, under your Protection, all the Rights they derive from the moſt excellent of all Conſtitutions, which is a Bleſſing peculiar to theſe happy Kingdoms.

May your Majeſty's Reign be long and glorious; may Wiſdom preſide in all your Councils; may Victory ever attend your Standards; may Peace and Proſperity be the Reſult of your Succeſs; may our Childrens Children be happy to the lateſt Times under Monarchs of your Illuſtrious Houſe; and may they ever perſevere in thoſe Principles of Duty, Loyalty, and chearful Obedience, which we feel in ourſelves to a Degree, which we want Words to expreſs.

Copy of a Letter from Capt. Alexander Hood, Commander of His Majeſty's Ship the Minerva, of 32 Guns, and 220 Men, to Mr. Cleveland, dated at Spithead the 3d of February, 1761.

I beg you will be pleaſed to acquaint the Right Honourable the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, that on the 23d of January, at Day-light in the Morning, being in the Lat. of 45° 22′ N. Cape Pinas bearing S. by E. diſtant 30 Leagues, I ſaw and gave Chaſe to a large Ship, ſteering to the Weſtward, which I ſoon diſcovered to be an Enemy of two Decks. At twenty Minutes after Ten, with a freſh Gale Eaſterly, and a great Sea, I began a cloſe Engagement with her: At Eleven her Main and Fore top-maſt went away, and ſoon after, ſhe came on board us on the Starboard Bow, and then fell along Side, but the Sea ſoon parted us, when the Enemy fell a-ſtern: About a Quarter after Eleven, the Minerva's Bowſprit went away, and the Fore-maſt ſoon followed it: Theſe were very unfortunate Accidents, and I almoſt deſpaired of being able to attack the Enemy again; however, I cut the Wreck away as ſoon as poſſible; and, about One o'Clock, cleared the Ship of it, by the Loſs of one Man and the Sheet Anchor. I then wore the Ship, and ſtood for the Enemy, who was then about three Leagues to Leeward of me. At Four o'Clock I came up cloſe to the Enemy, and renewed the Attack. About a Quarter before Five ſhe ſtruck, when Poſſeſſion was taken of the Warwick, of 34 Guns, but pierced for 60, the ſame as when ſhe belonged to His late Majeſty, commanded by M. le Veger de Belair, who has a King's Commiſſion to rank as Captain of a Fireſhip, having on Board two hundred and ninety five Men, ſeventy four of which are a Detachment of King's Troops from the Company of Beſſon, with two other Officers, and four Paſſengers; the Latter were deſtined for Pondicherry. She ſailed from Rochfort the 20th of January, and was bound to the Iſle of France and Bourbon, loaded with Proviſions, Ammunition, and Stores; and, by the Account given me, the Enemy had fourteen killed, and thirty-two wounded. In His Majeſty's Ship, the Numbers are, Mr. George Edwards, Boatſwain, and thirteen killed; and Mr. John Darracott, Gunner, and thirty-three wounded: The former died on the 27th, and two Seamen. I have given my Thanks to the Officers and Crew of His Majeſty's Ship for their firm and ſpirited Behaviour; and I have great Pleaſure in acquainting their Lordſhips with it. At Nine o'Clock the Main-maſt of the Minerva went away; at Eleven the Mizen-maſt followed it. If the Edgar is arrived, Capt. Drake muſt have acquainted their Lordſhips, that I took, on the 8th of January, the Ecureuil Privatier, belonging to Bayonne, of Fourteen Guns, and One hundred and twenty-two Men.

This Powder (which is a very safe and pleasant Medicine to take) is sold by J. Newbery at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church-yard, London; and by J. Hoey, jun. in Skinner Row, Dublin; at 2 s. 6 d. the two Doses, with good Allowance to those who buy it for charitable Uses, or to sell again.
